

National University Corporation Tohoku University, Tohoku University International House
Regulations 【Abstract】

July 19, 1983

Reg. No. 30

Revised December 22, 2014

Establishment

Article 1: The Tohoku University International House dormitories (hereafter, "IH dormitories") will be established by the National University Corporation Tohoku University (hereafter, "this university").

Objectives

Article 2: The objectives of the IH dormitories are to contribute to international exchange by providing foreign students and foreign researchers housing, and to offer a venue for events related to international exchange.

Article 3~ Article 12 Omission

Revocation of Residency Permission

Article 13: If a person granted residency permission fails to move in by the prescribed date, the director may revoke his/her residency permission.

Article 14~15 Omission

Facility Maintenance

Article 16: In order to maintain the IH facilities, furnishings and equipment (hereafter, "facilities") and preserve stability in the dormitories, residents must comply with the following items.

- I. Residents must not loan their room to others, whether in part or in whole.
- II. Residents must not use their rooms for any purpose other than habitation.
- III. Residents must not allow guests to stay overnight in their rooms.
- IV. Residents must keep their rooms and the common facilities in good condition, and not perform any construction/alterations without permission.
- V. Residents will work to prevent fires and other accidents, and maintain a hygienic environment.

Liability for Damages

Article 17: Residents must pay for the replacement or restoration of any facilities that are lost or damaged, whether intentionally or due to negligence..

Vacating the Dormitory

Article 18: Residents who wish to vacate their IH rooms must submit a moving-out form to the director via the head of their department.

Article 19: Residents must immediately vacate the dormitory under any of the following conditions.

- I. Loss of residence eligibility.
- II. Expiration of residency period.
2. The previous article applies mutatis mutandis to the above item.

Article 20: The director may, via the international exchange office, order a resident to vacate the dormitory under any of the following conditions.

- I. Failure to pay housing, usage, or other fees for three months or longer.
- II. Violations of Article 17, and Item 1 of the previous article.
- III. The IH dormitory is deemed unsuitable for the resident due to illness or other health reasons.
- IV. Any behavior that is substantially disruptive to the operation of the IH dormitory.